

Macca's men show pride in the red shirt

HYDE United totally dominated a Marine side lacking in fight - a charge which could not be levelled at Mike McKenzie's men.

Although the game trundled along in low gear for much of the first half it was the Tigers who had the better of play.

Colin Lambert put in a speculative effort which flew over, and Paul Varden and Dave Nolan had chances. At the other end, Jon Scargill could hardly have had an easier time.

Five minutes from the break, Hyde broke the deadlock when Varden slotted a through ball for Lutel James, who coolly fired past Kevin O'Brien. Macca's men kept Mariners penned back in their own half for long periods. The impressive Lambert fired just over and, after a surging run, Val Owen fired the ball just over the bar.

In a rare Marine attack Morgan tested Scargill, who got a hand to a stinging shot and George Switzer cleared off the line.

But Hyde continued to dominate and the Mariners defence when, after a brilliant run, Gus Wilson crossed for Varden to prod home.
